OBJECTIVE

There are over 1800 school board seats on the ballot across Ohio this November. Those who win will oversee billions of taxpayer dollars; create policy that will impact millions of students; and serve as the last line of defense against the attacks on public education coming from National and State levels.

We believe in the importance of school boards and hope to educate and empower voters throughout Ohio to engage in the upcoming election!

Let's Talk About School Boards

WHY THESE POSITIONS ARE IMPORTANT

Public schools are important parts of our communities! While many state and federal laws affect how our schools are run, our local school boards make decisions that affect our kids and our communities every day.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE BOARD AND THE ADMINISTRATIVE TEAM?

School boards are elected from the local community to make sure that their school district reflects the priorities and values of their community. They handle the big picture – like creating policies, managing the budget, and hiring a Superintendent.

The Administrative team in the district manages the entire district and determines the how, or the day-to-day operations. The administration implements the board policies – creating practices and procedures, creating the budget priorities and making curriculum and textbook recommendations. And finally, they hire the support staff and teachers in the buildings.

OHIO SCHOOL BOARD FACTS

- To be eligible to run for your local school board, you must be: at least 18 years old, a US citizen, a resident of the district, and a registered voter in your district.
- School board members serve four-year terms.
- School board members are paid per meeting that they attend. They can receive up to $125 per meeting.
- There are more than 3,000 school board members across the state.

PROTECTING OUR SCHOOLS:

THE URGENT NEED FOR A COMMON-SENSE SCHOOL BOARD

Public schools should be places where all students feel safe, respected, and empowered to learn. But across the country, extremist school board members are pushing dangerous policies that harm all kids, bully LGBTQ+ students, ban books, and censor honest discussions about history. These attacks threaten not only our children's education but also the fundamental values of equality and free expression.

In 2023, Red Wine & Blue worked to get common sense school board candidates elected and ousted Moms for Liberty extremists. In 2025, every public school district in Ohio will elect either two or three school board members. It is critical that we all understand the importance of a common-sense school board and make sure our friends and neighbors are ready to join us in voting for candidates that support public education.

THE DANGER OF EXTREMIST AGENDAS

When school boards fall into the hands of extremists, the consequences are dire:

- LGBTQ+ students face discrimination and erasure – Policies that restrict LGBTQ+ inclusion, remove affirming resources such as books, flags, symbols of allyship, or force teachers to out students put vulnerable youth at risk. Studies show that LGBTQ+ students with supportive environments have better mental health and academic outcomes. And when we make school feel safe, it benefits all students.
- Book bans limit intellectual freedom – Censorship of books on race, gender, and identity robs students of the opportunity to see themselves in literature and learn about diverse perspectives. Parents—not politicians—should decide what their kids read.
- History is rewritten for political gain – Attempts to whitewash history by restricting discussions of systemic racism, civil rights, the Holocaust, and other hard truths do a disservice to all students. An honest, well-rounded education prepares young people to think critically and engage meaningfully in society.

THE COMMON-SENSE SOLUTION

A responsible school board should prioritize educational excellence, inclusivity, and critical thinking over divisive political agendas. We need leaders who:

- Support safe and affirming schools for all students, regardless of gender identity or sexual orientation.
- Trust teachers and librarians to provide a rich, diverse curriculum that fosters curiosity and understanding.
- Defend honest education, ensuring that students learn the full, complex history of our country so they can build a better future.

The future of our schools—and our democracy—depends on electing school board members who put students first, not politics. It's time to stand up for common sense, fairness, and a quality education for all.

QUESTIONS TO ASK CANDIDATES

Question 1: How will you engage with the community if elected?

LISTEN FOR: Will this person be accessible to the community and open to feedback? Will they bring a spirit of collaboration to problem-solving issues?

Question 2: What are your top concerns about the district budget, and how do you plan to address them?

LISTEN FOR: Does this person understand the appropriate role of a school board member in the budget process? Do they understand the sources of local, state, and federal income to your district?

Question 3: What has your experience been with our district, whether as a parent or caregiver of a student, a volunteer, or community member?

LISTEN FOR: Multiple viewpoints on a board are important, so understanding what perspective the candidate is bringing is helpful, both as an individual and also as one of multiple decision makers. For example, if none of the school board members has a current student attending a school in the district, that is an important perspective missing.

Question 4: What are your goals for the district, and how will you support meeting them?

LISTEN FOR: School board members create policy and evaluate the Superintendent, so as they answer this question, be sure they are referencing ways they can utilize those two actions towards meeting the goals stated.

QUESTIONS TO ASK:

Do they understand the role of a school board member?

Will they be able to deliver on what they are promising?

HOW TO RESEARCH SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATES

GETTING STARTED

The most comprehensive information about the candidates who will appear on your ballot can be found on your county Board of Elections website. This information should be on a url ending in .gov to prove the information is official.

Start your research by finding out the following information about the race:

- How many seats are open?
- How many candidates are running?
- Are there any incumbents running?

CHECK THESE SOURCES

While you will be able to see the full list of candidates running on the Board of Elections website, it's up to you, the voter, to find specific information about each of the candidates. There are a number of nonpartisan organizations that are dedicated to informing voters in an unbiased manner to help you make the best decision. As a general rule, organizations that hold a 501(c)(3) tax exempt status are required to remain neutral regarding any candidate running for office.

- League of Women Voters
- Ballotpedia
- Honesty for Ohio Education's Candidate Research Guide can be found here.
- School Board School (select districts in the Greater Cincinnati area)
- Red Wine & Blue's Ohio Voting Guide

OTHER RESOURCES

Local newspapers will sometimes publish candidate interviews or information. Some school groups (e.g., PTO or PTA) or community councils may host candidate forums, so be sure to check their meeting notices and agendas. They often provide opportunities to submit questions prior to or during the forums.

Of course, the candidate's website and social media accounts are also wonderful sources to find information about their priorities and relevant experience.

TIPS FOR RESEARCHING SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATES

GETTING STARTED

Understanding the role of the school board and the administrative team is a good place to start determining what qualities you should look for as you figure out what exactly you're looking for in a candidate. (Check the Let's Talk About School Boards document in this toolkit for more detailed information about the responsibilities of school boards.)

THINGS TO CONSIDER

As you look at all available information for candidates and listen to them speak at events, you should start to get a feel for what their priorities will be if they're elected. The list below highlights a few things to look for as you learn more about each candidate. While it's certainly not exhaustive, we hope you'll use it as a starting point.

Eight Characteristics of an Effective School Board

1. Vision of high expectations with clear goals defined
2. Strong, shared beliefs and values about what is possible for students
3. Accountability driven – less time on operations, more time on policy
4. Collaborative relationship with staff and community
5. Embrace data and use it to drive improvement
6. Align and sustain resources to meet district goals
7. Lead as a united team with the superintendent
8. Participate in team development and training
